Visitor Intent Classification

WHAT YOU WILL BE SEEING

These are the first things a visitor typed in a live chat on a real estate team's website. An agent opened the chat. Each line is one visitor's opening message.

WHAT WE NEED YOU TO DO

You will see 30 short chat messages. For each message, choose exactly one label: buyer, seller, renter, or other.

Read only the words in that message. If the intent is unclear, choose other.

HOW TO LABEL EACH MESSAGE

buyer — The visitor wants to buy, or is clearly shopping for a home or property to own. This includes houses, condos, land, investment purchases, short-term rentals they would buy, tours, listings, budgets, and pre-approval.
Example: 'Hi xxxxx! My husband and I will be in town next week looking for a primary residency that we will turn into an Air BNB within the next year' seller — The visitor wants to sell or list a property they own.

Example: 'I have two investment properties here that I would like to sell next summer.'

renter — The visitor wants to lease a place to live in as a tenant. They are not trying to buy.
Example: 'I am looking to rent a house 2/2 or 3/2., fenced yard and screened in porch. I work at xxxx at xxxxxxxxx Mall.'

other — The message does not clearly show an intent to buy, sell, or rent. Use this for greetings only, "who are you?", requests for a staff email, general questions about the area, questions about property management only, or text that is too vague to tell.
Examples: 'Interested in a consultation'

WHEN A MESSAGE IS UNCLEAR

- There could be many typos, so you should take some time on things you are not sure and make your best educated guess.
- Buying a home to use as an Airbnb, or asking about rental income on a home they might buy, is buyer.
- Choose renter only when they clearly want to lease a place to live.
- You should answer Renter for the response that says only 'Hi' to indicate you have read the whole instruction. Otherwise you may be DISQUALIFIED.

- If the message mentions both buying and selling, pick the intent that is the main point of the message.
- If you would be guessing randomly, choose other.

'Hi - we are from Toronto, Canada and are retired. We will be visiting Cocoa Beach for the month of March. I have viewed some of xxx(name)'s videos and would really be interested in learning more about the vacation rental townhomes (our budget could be between $300-375,000). Ideally we would like to use the property for 3-4 months in the year and rent it out for the rest of the year. Would it be possible to meet with someone and have them show us around? We could be available for 2-3 days between Mar. 8-16. Let me know....thanks, xxxxxx & xxxxx xxxxx(names)' *
